

1) all communications with high priority on the pure information:

firefighters, military, public address systems in train stations, ...

are mainly focussed on speech intelligibility.

